DISCLAIMER

This is to certify that I understand that although the proprietors of the VEC will take all precautions necessary, horse riding, by nature, must always carry some risk. In the event of an accident or my child falling ill I understand that the proprietors of the VEC will take every attempt to contact me on the above telephone numbers, and at the same time I authorise the person in charge to arrange any medical attention that is necessary. No responsibility is accepted for anything that may happen from any cause whatsoever to riders, spectators, horses or property. It is a condition of acceptance of application that each participant and their parent/guardian shall agree to indemnify the organisers against any legal action arising from any accident or incident.
